I heard

what she said at that moment...

it was just an accident
so you think it wanted to fall onto your shoulder

wouldn't you pry it off it had to be just because it fell onto your shoulder

soon it will have wings and fly high...

especially doing this season...

normins deserves to die just because.

"pom" (spring)

she was like the season itself.

like a season you sometimes want to avoid but would still visit you regardless...

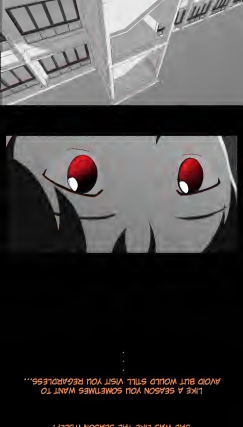
...haven't you done enough already



when will you quit torturing me and let me go?

i was afraid,

that it'd end up in a similar situation as before.

it made me hesitate.

you had your time. you had worked on your own life.

i feel it's my turn to have my own life... i was always alone... give me a turn... so don't hate me... don't blame me...

so please...

don't hate me...

and soon enough,

i found myself meddling into her life.
